

E. O. P. PLATFORM FAILS TO PLEASE LABOR LEADERS

MONTREAL, June 12.—Amid tremendous applause, the American Federation of Labor at its annual convention today adopted a report condemning the Republican platform in Chicago for turning "back on labor in advertising the platform."

Comptroller announced that the executive council has directed that the labor's demands submitted to the Republican convention be presented in identical form to the present national convention.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS. LEAFY WIFE TO TRIP. MONTREAL, June 12.—The American Federation of Labor and its platform "defiant in its defense of the enemies of labor" and calculated to secure for them fresh advances and increased privileges, summed up by the platform as "the American dream" and "the American way," declared here today in a statement presented at the federation's annual convention.

The declaration of the platform as adopted there asserted, proposes an industrial enslavement and an abridgment of "rights as precious as life itself."

The statement "vehemently" rebukes the Republicans for neglecting anti-protection legislation recommending "the Republican platform" and "ignoring the platform" and "ignoring the platform" and "ignoring the platform."

It proposes the fulfillment of what long has been the hopes and aims, exploitation of the people and domination of the labor movement, according to the labor chiefs.

The Republican endorsement of the transportation act of 1920 was in addition to the business of the day and repudiation of the demand submitted by labor of an emphatic endorsement of the labor provisions of the Cummins-Esch railroad act.

It also repudiated the right to strike, the labor chiefs asserted, "the party proclaims as one of its greatest achievements."

MUSEUMS GIVEN RARE BIRD FILMS

Several thousand feet of film and a large number of "still" photographs of the Blue Lake heron in its native haunts are to be donated to the Oakland Public Museum by W. Otto Emerson, ornithologist, of Hayward, and E. S. Cheney, Oakland photographer, as soon as they are completed.

The photographs were taken on an expedition to a small lake in the mountains near the city last week. The birds are an unusually thin species, Rowley says.

The photographers built a blind near the bird colony and coming into it at noon were forced to remain there until noon of the following day.

NAMES OF PANEL KEPT SECRET IN M'DONOUGH CASE

SAN FRANCISCO, June 12.—Veiling the identity of the panel of 150 prospective jurors in the Peter McDonough police court bribery case in complete secrecy, Superior Judge W. A. Beasley in Department Eleven yesterday ordered that the names of the men who may try the ball bond broken shall not be revealed until they appear in court next Tuesday morning for the opening of the trial.

While Judge Beasley, Jury Commissioner Thomas S. Madvey, Deputy County Clerk Milton Davis, Assistant Attorney General E. B. Power and Attorney Lewis F. Byington and Bert Schlesinger for the defense, looked on, Clerk James Groom drew the names of the venire from the box. The case opens at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning with McDonough answering the first charge of perjury, ahead of the bribery accusations.

CONSCIENCE STOPS BURGLAR PROGRAM. A young daylight burglar who entered the home of E. D. Hawkins, 11 Monticello avenue, Piedmont, last Saturday afternoon was restrained from looting the home by his conscience.

This is the only explanation the Piedmont police can offer concerning the failure of the daylight burglar to carry away a large amount of loot.

The burglar was seen to enter the Hawkins home by neighbors across the street, but owing to his effrontery in walking up to the house and sitting a key in the lock, their suspicions were aroused.

The family was away during the afternoon and returned home in the evening to find the house ransacked. Nothing was taken from a hundred dollars' worth of valuables, but the burglar was seen to enter the house.

BANKER ATTACKS NEW COMMUNITY PROPERTY LAW

TAHOE, June 12.—The community property law, senate bill 471, passed by the last California legislature and held up by a referendum petition, was attacked by H. Roseberry, vice president of the Security Trust & Savings Bank of Los Angeles in an address here yesterday at the annual meeting of the Association of California Bankers.

"The measure is fraught with legal uncertainties and structural defects," he said, "which must take years of litigation and heavy losses to finally settle."

"The reason and principle underlying our present community property law, and justifying the control over and power to dispose of community property by the husband, is his legal and moral obligation to support the family. This obligation does not rest upon a wife, except in rare cases. The opposition to any law, impairing his free control over the community property, is justified on the ground that if he is to be required to support the family, he must be allowed undisturbed access to the community property for that purpose."

Roseberry listed the following organizations as opposed to the new community property law: The Los Angeles Bar Association, San Francisco Bar Association, Real Estate Boards of Los Angeles and San Francisco, Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, Los Angeles Wholesale Credit Men's Association, Los Angeles Real Estate Association, California Land Title Association, Los Angeles Contractors' Association and others.

BREAKING THRU

Here is the first photograph to reach the west of the national Republican convention in the Coliseum at Chicago, where nearly a thousand delegates have striven to frame the policies and select the candidates of their party. From a calm beginning, when this photograph was taken by flashlight as the convention got under way, the delegates have worked to a climax of intensity in yesterday's and today's balloting. The balloting is by states, each state group being seated by itself under a card bearing the state's name. These cards appear among the section number cards in the photograph. The location of the California delegation is indicated by the white arrow.—Photo Copyright, 1920, by Moffett Studio and Kaufmann & Fabry Co.)

TAMMANY CHIEF IS SILENT; MANY CLAIMS CURRENT

SAN FRANCISCO, June 12.—With Charles F. Murphy, big boss of Tammany Hall, on his way to San Francisco from New York and with the delegation of his state variously reported for Edwards, Cox, McAdoo and John W. Davis, there is being bottled up for his arrival a staggering volume of questions.

Murphy has stopped on his way at French Lick and Chicago. He will make no reply to any queries regarding the probable outcome of the convention, and is preserving a regular Tammany brand of silence. The New York delegation is known to have a strong Edwards sentiment.

Tammany is for the "wet" candidate almost to a man. Norman Macik is said to lean that way and together the McAdoo forces have been putting in extra time drumming up a show of sentiment in the Empire state and claim that they have a number of votes in the delegation. Just how strong this is is problematical. Cox forces count on a strong New York vote and may get the anti-Tammany support.

MCADOO STRENGTH PROBLEM

With the Texas delegation it is all McAdoo. Thomas B. Love, former assistant secretary of the treasury and naturally a follower of his old chief, claims a unanimity of sentiment and Governor W. P. Hobby backs him in the statement. McAdoo has kept out of the state primaries and his strength may only be forecast by expressions of the prominent delegates who are even arriving in San Francisco. Because of

PENROSE SINKS UNDER STRAIN OF CONVENTION

PHILADELPHIA, June 12.—The prolonged strain of the Republican convention has caused a sudden turn for the worse in the condition of Senator Penrose.

Color was given reports to this effect by the announcement that two of the senator's physicians were in attendance at his home early this morning.

CANDIDATES FAIL IN CHARTER TEST

The names of four applicants who failed to meet charter requirements will be withheld from the eligible list of patrolmen, following an investigation conducted last night by the Civil Service Board into candidates whose requirements were questioned by Chief of Police J. F. Lynch during the latter's character and experience investigation of applicants for the 50 new positions in the department and the seven regular existing vacancies.

A number of the candidates who passed the recent examinations but whose final papers were held up after the chief's probe, were quizzed by the Civil Service Commissioners last night, when it was discovered that the four were not thoroughly qualified. It was announced today that the new eligible list will be posted by the board next Wednesday. The board last night recommended the creation of the position of first assistant in the public museum and gave the temporary appointment to Miss Susie Mott, sister of former Mayor Frank K. Mott. Miss Mott has acted as assistant to Mayor John Rowley of the museum for the last ten years, and the creation of the position was for the purpose of providing her with the standing called for by her activities.

Salary increases of $10 a month were recommended by the board last night for the positions of assistant foreman and nurseryman and florist in the Park Department. Miss Adeline Keller, junior stenographer in the city auditor's office, was also recommended for an increase of $5.

REDS TO TORTURE WHITES AT DIABLO

MARTINEZ, June 12.—Plans have been completed by Contra Costa tribes of Red Men for the gigantic open air adoption of candidates to be held at the foot of Mt. Diablo June 19. A class of 500 palefaces will be initiated into the order and it is expected that more than 3000 members of the order from all parts of the state will attend. The local tribe has ordered six loaves for the bachelors. The degree work is to be exemplified by three prize-winning teams of the hay district.

DIABLO PARK BACKED

The Martinez Chamber of Commerce has adopted a resolution endorsing the movement to make Mt. Diablo a California State park and approving the proposal for maintenance of a public highway to the mountain summit. Similar resolutions have been passed by Alameda chamber and by the Concord chamber. Representatives of chambers of commerce of Alameda and Contra Costa counties will meet at Concord Monday night to consider steps for furtherance of the movement. Among plans that will be considered is a scenic fireworks celebration which is proposed, to be held on the summit of Mt. Diablo on the Fourth of July.

Recommendations made by the Chamber of Commerce that dirt from streets now being improved be utilized in the construction of a bulkhead for municipal waterfront land are being considered today by the board of trustees. The city owns waterfront land of a frontage of 2600 feet but it is desired now to bulkhead 300 feet of this property and 30 feet owned by the California Transportation company, which has agreed to bulkhead its property if similar action is taken by the city. The company has agreed to pay for an engineer's survey. The trustees recently refused to call a bond election on a proposal for an issue of $100,000 for filling the waterfront.

HEARING CONTINUED

Justice of the Peace P. L. Glass has continued for the second time the preliminary examination of William Perilla of Concord, 18, charged with a statutory offense, following his alleged elopement to San Jose with a 16-year-old Concord girl. His hearing has been set for next Tuesday.

TO RENEW THE APPEAL

Aldo Adella, 21, of Alameda, who was arrested last night for the theft of a bicycle, is expected to renew his appeal for a new trial today.

ONLY ONE TAKES CONTRA COSTA CO. EXAMINATION

MARTINEZ, June 12.—An indication of the shortage of teachers that may be expected in this county is apparent today with but one candidate appearing before the county board of education for the semi-annual examination for elementary school certificates.

The lone candidate is Mrs. Lella Stinchell, of Hayward. Ordinarily there are at least ten candidates.

WOULD NOT YIELD TO LEAGUE.

A new document of some interest has been made public in connection with the relations between China and Japan and with the participation of President Wilson in the discussions of these relations at Versailles, an effort which failed to bring any benefit or prestige to the United States. This new disclosure is vouched for by the Far Eastern Bureau of New York City, a propaganda agency in the interest of China, of which Prof. Jeremiah W. Jenks is the head. But the promulgation coincides so perfectly with the official information already available that any doubt as to its reliability that otherwise might exist is entirely removed.

The document in question is a confidential communication from one of the great powers, other than the United States, which took part in the sessions of the Big Four at the Paris peace conference. It draws from the secret records of the Big Four.

It recites the rather unpleasant fact that the Japanese mission state frankly and with emphasis that Japan based her demands regarding Shantung upon the treaties of 1915, agreements against which the United States had strongly protested. And it further discloses that the Japanese peace commissioner told President Wilson to his face that even though the Shantung dispute might in future be referred to the League of Nations—and the decision be unfavorable—Japan would in the last analysis insist upon the validity of the notorious 1915 agreements. To quote directly from the confidential document:

"It should be mentioned that the Japanese delegates throughout these conversations made it clear that, in the event of any failure of China to carry out her share of the bargain, if, for example, she refused to cooperate in the formation of the police force or to admit the employment of Japanese instructors, Japan reserved the right to fall back. In the last resort, on the Sino-Japanese agreements of 1915 and 1918. President Wilson expressed the hope that, in the event of such failure on the part of China, Japan, instead of appealing to the agreements, should voluntarily apply for mediation by the Council of the League of Nations.

"The Japanese delegates pointed out that, if China carried out her obligation loyally, the case would not arise, and that, even if the matter were submitted to the League of Nations, Japan nevertheless must reserve her right in the last analysis to base herself on the agreements."

These agreements to which Japan refers are comprised of notes exchanged between the Japanese and Chinese governments in 1915 and which contained the notorious twenty-one demands upon China. The government of the United States protested against these demands, particularly group four, as infringing the integrity of China and violating the doctrine of the "open door" and equal trade opportunity.

One of the most notorious demands was that for the employment of Japanese instructors in the Chinese police and army establishments, but one which, it now appears from the records of the sessions of the Big Four at Paris, Japan is determined stoutly to insist upon.

Japan made it perfectly clear at the Peace conference that she intended to reserve, in nominally restoring sovereignty in the Shantung peninsula to China, all the economic rights which Germany had enjoyed under the nineteenth year lease. These "economic" rights include, aside from the maintenance of a Japanese-controlled military police force in Shantung as far inward as Tsingtau and beyond, a residential concession in Tsingtau, the German rights in the railways already built and the mines associated with them, and concession for the building of two other railroads, capital for which shall be borrowed from Japan by China.

There are other vexatious drawbacks to the proposed restoration of the Kiaochow leased territory which will, joined with those detailed above, to make of the contemplated act a shameful farce.

Those who have availed themselves of the opportunity to read an O. Henry story a day as they appear in THE TRIBUNE may be interested in the fact that the author's death occurred ten years ago last Saturday. The fact is worthy of note because critics of the time, insofar as they noticed his work at all, pronounced it ephemeral, predicting that it would be speedily forgotten, while as a matter of fact world appreciation has even now but fairly commenced. Today it is safe to say that a thousand persons are reading and enjoying O. Henry's stories where there was one a decade ago. It is a striking instance of posthumous fame that has accorded this author a place more secure than any that could have been awarded by all the critics—in the hearts of the million who read his stories and are entertained and edified by them.

ON THE RIGHT COURSE.

Officials of the Eastbay cities have made a beginning, however slight it may be, toward the solution of the water problem. They have come to an agreement on the proposition that there should be cooperation among all the municipalities in this matter. How much further they will get is uncertain but they have laid the foundation upon which all future proceedings should be based—recognition that obtaining an adequate water supply for the Eastbay district is a problem common to all the units of the district.

So far the conference of the mayors and councilmen and commissioners of Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda and Richmond has contemplated, formally and officially, joint action only for the acquisition for existing water utilities that are serving the Eastbay cities. They believe that these utilities should be taken over and administered by the municipalities. They plan to start proceedings to accomplish this end.

Details for doing this are still to be worked out. There seems to be dissatisfaction with the present public utilities act which authorizes the formation of a utility district by different cities and towns and a proposal has been advanced to urge the State legislature next January to amend the existing law or to pass a new act. Whether the plan of forming a utility district and taking over the water companies will be deserving of the approval of the people cannot be taken for granted until the plan is known in all its details. But in principle the idea is sound.

Two points in connection with the water situation should be borne in mind: first, it is necessary to increase the sources of water supply by the development of a new source which will furnish adequate water for the future growth and demands of the Eastbay cities; second, when such new water project is undertaken by the municipalities it will be necessary that they also take over existing supply and distributing systems.

It is now time to prepare for the unavoidable period when a new water supply will have to be developed. Whether the existing water companies should be taken over now or at a date nearer the time when the new water supply will be available, is largely a question of tactics to be determined by the state of municipal finances, the financial expediency of assuming the burden before it is necessary and by the water engineers. The main consideration is that the city governments put their minds and hands to this problem in earnest, and in a spirit of cooperation to serve the best interest of the Eastbay cities.

Millions of Americans have recently taken account of that venerable and creditable American, Chaney Depew, through his reminiscent papers covering the important political events of more than sixty years and by the fact that he is participating in the present Republican convention. Many more who read in the current news of calls for Former Speaker Cannon during a lull in the proceedings were undoubtedly disappointed that he was not in the convention hall, as he never speaks even casually without saying something worth listening to; and there must be still a multitude, which may include all who come under the foregoing designations, to take account of Elihu Root, not heretofore mentioned prominently in the convention news, who came into the breach with a plank that releases the tense situation over the League of Nations matter, and prevented what might have been an embarrassing deadlock. Three steadfast Republicans and loyal Americans, whom it is simple justice to honor.

KEEP PESTILENCE OUT!

At the end of March of this year, when announcement was made that Dr. Rupert Blue, former surgeon general of the United States public health service, had gone to Europe to investigate sanitary conditions there with special reference to the control of typhus and the quarantine regulations necessary to prevent it from getting a foothold in this country, the Post expressed its unqualified approval. It did so for two reasons: first, because it had confidence in Dr. Blue, and secondly, because it believed that the United States was in imminent danger of an invasion of pestilence from abroad.

How correct the latter opinion was may be inferred from the decision arrived at by Dr. Blue and the statement he issued on Friday last. Instead of staying a few weeks, as he at first intended, he has opened offices in Paris and will remain in Europe all summer in an effort to combat the serious situation with which he is confronted. He has also called to Washington for five additional surgeons to aid him in his difficult task. The misgiving which he feels cannot be expressed better than in his own words:

"The presence of many cases of typhus and cholera in Poland is a grave danger to the United States, because Polish immigration to the United States is increasing daily. I have advised placing a service surgeon at every port. At present we have only two at Naples and Genoa. I have just made an inspection of the northern ports and will soon go to the Adriatic to see that the steamship companies there carry out the regulations."

There is, unfortunately, solid ground for the fear that typhus and cholera will sweep from eastern to western Europe before many weeks have passed. From there it would be a matter of mere days for them to reach the American shore, unless the most rigorous precautions are taken. Rubicund plague has already appeared at Vera Cruz. There is no question of the menace. Let everything possible be done to ward it off. Let the five surgeons be sent and as many more as the seriousness of the situation seems to require. At this juncture a state responsibility rests upon the public health service of the United States—Washington Post.

NOTES and COMMENT

The new regime in Mexico is making a good start if it is true that it is returning to rightful owners property confiscated by previous regimes. There has been a great deal of this sort of thing, and if those now in power can make it right, or evince a sincere purpose to make it right, they will have advanced a considerable distance in the confidence of nations.

The Pacific naval fleet is to assemble in San Francisco Bay June 15, and the Democratic national convention is to take up on the 15th. Those visitors incidental to the political convention who may arrive in time will be afforded opportunity to view a spectacle that is likely to be new to many of them.

Senator Robert L. Owen of Oklahoma, aspirant for the Democratic nomination, is here. Among other traits that he manifests is an ability as to his competitors and the adversary on the other side. We have not heard much of Senator Owens, but there is a tip out that he is a contender.

Account of a Nevada City mule, which had been underground three years in a mine, refusing to be hoisted out. The objection is not well taken. After the earth and Nevada City is much pleasanter than its bowels. Even a mule ought to recognize that fact.

Installing a woman in the management of his boom is evidently regarded as wise policy on the part of Mr. McAdoo. The woman vote is going to be worth while in the forthcoming election, even though it is denied in some of the states. The question remains, however, as to whether it will be certainly controlled in that way.

There are some evidences that the price of sugar is to take a downward course, which may be hastened, for one thing, by the restoration of the rationing system, and for another, by the movement this way of sugar crops of outside countries. A possibility also is that the boost is becoming topheavy and difficult to maintain.

Governor Edwards must have read the Supreme Court decision on the eighteenth amendment, yet from the way he butts his head against the stone wall this is not indicated. Governor Allen also must have read it, though having done so it is difficult to understand why he does not regard the incident as closed instead of seeking to keep it open with a dry plank.

Ibanez writes that he is pleased with the picketing women at Chicago. Sometimes the justice of a cause may appeal in behalf of this practice, which never glorifies a woman, and in this case its appeal cannot be compelling.

Hotel keepers have their troubles, as has not in these abnormal times. One of their worries is help. At the sessions of the Hotel Men's Association one of the things discussed was the Americanization of help. Just what is meant by this when it is remembered that a very American institution in this country, a bellhop already is, may not be understood by everybody.

Americans are entitled to remember that the battle ofunker Hill was fought 145 years ago next Thursday. It wasn't much of a battle as the world has been fighting in recent years, but it had a big meaning, and it is something of an inheritance to Americans who still cherish the country's traditions.

In the news columns of yesterday that told of the struggle among the aspirants for the presidential nomination was a dispatch telling of the exhumation of the body of Isaac C. Blaine preparatory to its transfer to Augusta, Maine, for final sepulture. Thirty-six years ago the struggle was his, the thunder of the captains and the shouting was over him. To those who are now striving it might be regarded as a grim reminder of the brief career and the disappointed ambition of one who was as they say.

The Redding Searchlight notes a new variety: "The strange performance of the San Francisco woman who felled a Shasta county mountain with a fish to just a slight variation of the customary fish story."

The Richmond News can't give the reason: "Old men and young women still wed, but blessed if we know why."

A Shoshone ram sent from Butte City as a present to President Wilson to lead the herd on the White House grounds has exhibited superhuman intelligence in contemptuous hostility to sleuths. ## VERA CRUZ

"While fully aware of the high percentage of error most sweeping assertions contain, I nevertheless venture to claim that the country lying between the cities of Vera Cruz and Mexico City possesses more varied natural attractions than any other area of similar extent in the world."

This is the statement of Frank M. Chapman, in a communication to the National Geographic Society, concerning Vera Cruz, which figures so conspicuously in news despatches from Mexico. Dr. Chapman continues: "Be one student or tourist, there can be no question that one should enter Mexico from the gulf. A journey from the coast to the capital follows a natural succession of climatic zones as well as the sequence of early historic events."

"The day, indeed, should begin at sunrise, some hours before disembarking at Vera Cruz, with a hope that one may have the rare good fortune to see the first rays of the sun touch the summit of Mt. Orizaba, the first, as it will be among the most lasting, of one's impressions of Mexico. The shore is still some 30 miles distant, the mountain itself about 100 miles, and one is with difficulty convinced that the gleaming pink cloud high above the horizon is part of the still invisible earth beneath it. Doubtless the Aztecs were not familiar with this view of Mt. Orizaba, but from no other place is their name for it—'Chalchapel, the Star mountain'—so applicable.

ASKS MURPHY.

Tammany is still in the saddle—still the dominant factor in the New York State Democracy. There was a test of strength at the Albany conference of the delegates to the San Francisco convention on the question of whether the unit rule should prevail and the decision was overwhelmingly for this device for Tammany control.

The vote for unit rule was a vote of confidence in Tammany Hall—more particularly in the leadership of Charles F. Murphy. It means that the choice of Mr. Murphy for the presidential nomination is the choice of the New York State Democracy. It is simply regard for form and ceremony that requires the attendance of the delegates. Mr. Murphy will be the recognized representative of this sovereign State at San Francisco; all the rest will be nowhere.—Buffalo News.

HEALTH and HAPPINESS

Here Are More Things You Should Know About Eczema

By Dr. LEONARD K. HIRSHBERG,
A. B., M. A., M. D.
(Johns Hopkins University.)

Butchers, bakers and candlestick makers are not alone among the worst sufferers with the many diseased states of the skin classed as "eczemas." Chemists, maids, plasterers, printers, painters, gardeners, janitors, cooks, washerwomen and housekeepers have their skin disorders of the same sort.

You should determine the treatment of the malady according to its intensity, time it has lasted, occupation or trade engaged in, chemicals handled, garments, starches, laundry, excretion and foods eliminated and improvements of eczema are to be had with ointments, lotions or applications to soothe the itch as well as to heal the malady.

Acute, extensive eczema, not caused by alcohol baths or carbolic soaps, may be treated with a mild alcoholic solution of five-tenths part of salicylic acid to be followed with a soothing powder, half-starch and half-talcum. Reserves often follows in three days. If not, then you may try the zinc lotion made of half an ounce of each distilled water, glycerine, starch and zinc oxide.

After the redness disappears and becomes purplish or brown, about five grains of oil of birch tar or oil of cade tar, with five grains of vaseline and two or a half dram each of starch, zinc oxide made into a paste ought to heal the acute eczema completely.

Only bland, soothing ointments are useful as a rule in moist or "weeping" eczemas. Alcohol irritates, and powders and shakable lotions make crusting.

A moist wet bandage or wet gauze helps to open the blisters. Rubber and silk or dry dressings injure them.

Lead water diluted eight times, a solution of aluminum subacetate weakened with nine parts water or a watery solution of ichthylol 1 part to 100 parts of water often heal eczema. The bandages should be changed every fifteen minutes, evaporation must go on all the time, so there should be only three or four layers of bandages.

More resistant eczemas call for zinc ointment or even a 10 per cent solution of zinc in alcohol. Starch powder is to be applied over this.

According to Prof. J. E. Eisenstaedt of Chicago, where there is an old, hard, dry, encrusted eczema, diachylon ointment is to be applied to linen and the bandages changed twice a day. Olive oil is used to cleanse the parts each time.

Finally, severe eczema, which occasionally attacks the palms and soles, calls for removal of the corns or horny layers. Diachylon ointment on mull is effective for this.

For perspiring palms and feet after such treatment use this formaldehyde salve: Wool fat or lanolin ..... 4 grams
Alcaline or petrolatum ..... 4 grams
Menthol ..... 4 grains
Solution of formaldehyde .75 drops
Here, then, is a variety of methods for the treatment of some of the types of eczema found in different walks of life.

CARGOES NOW WPOUTED DIRECT TO OAKLAND DOCKS

STEEL USERS TO SAVE COSTS OF TRANSHIPMENTS

Arrangements by which the thousands of tons of shipyard steel and other manufactured products used in this city from Baltimore and the big eastern centers instead of having to be transhipped from San Francisco, have been made for the first time in the history of Oakland's maritime growth through the establishment by the Lawrence Warehouse Company of headquarters for the Pacific Mail Steamship Company at the municipal dock.

The Lawrence company, agents for the Pacific Mail in Eastbay cities, has just increased its size enormously by the purchase of the entire capital stock of the Producers Transportation Company, which operates a number of steamers and barges on the San Francisco bay and the Sacramento river.

PORTENTOUS STEP
Traffic Manager G. A. Bahler of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, in declaring this to be a portentous step forward in the history of local shipping, said that the chamber is now negotiating with other steamship companies to have the same step taken in the history of local shipping. Under the old arrangement cargoes destined for Oakland were unloaded to this city at a cost of 60 cents a ton and with a great deal of delay.

Through bills of lading to and from Baltimore will now be issued by the Pacific Mail at this port and the great mass of the cargo which makes this port a busy one will be transhipped. Where the entire cargo of a vessel is routed to Oakland it will come to the municipal dock while Oakland-bound shipments will be unloaded at San Francisco will be brought over here on the Lawrence Company boats.

Traffic Manager Bahler said that the industry now benefited by the establishment of Oakland as Pacific Mail headquarters will be the shipyards, which are put to an immediate expense and delay in transhipping great cargoes of steel and shipbuilding materials from San Francisco here.

Eastbay Teamsters Will Strike June 15 For Higher Wages

Declaring that the bakery wagon drivers receive more pay than they do and demanding a share in the 10 percent increase in draying rates granted to transbay transportation companies by the railroad commission, members of the eastbay teamsters' union voted to strike Tuesday, June 15, to enforce a raise of $1 a day.

The Draymen's Association of Alameda county today issued a call to all members of the association to attend a meeting Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Merchants' Exchange building to map out a course of action. The employers say they will fight the strike. They claim the workers' contract does not expire until in September, and that three raises amounting to $1.50 a day have already been granted since July, 1917.

The union men say that their contract expired June 4.

STREET CLOSED BY CITY TO PROTECT HOME OF WIDOW

BERKELEY, June 12.—A plea of Mrs. L. E. Blochman, member of the Board of Education, in behalf of Mrs. Anna Kettenbach, aged widow, yesterday won the city council to a plan to close Kittredge street as far as the Kettenbach property. Under the arrangement Mrs. Kettenbach will be allowed to retain her house, from which she derives her sole source of income, until the board needs her land several years hence for a high school purpose. The property is located at the corner of Kittredge street and the city is to be closed to the street from the school house to the Kettenbach property. Mrs. Kettenbach is asking $12,000 for her house and lot, with $8,000 as the top sum which the school board will pay. Owing to the widow's circumstances, condemnation proceedings were not favored by the school board. Until yesterday the council refused to close and of the street until all the frontage was bought by the city. The street is not fair to other property owners.

'IS HIT BY BLAZE

It was necessary to use considerable water and much damage was done to grain by soaking. Some of the machinery of the mill was badly damaged, but the flames were prevented from spreading and the main part of the mill was saved. The fire department stayed on watch several hours as the flames kept breaking out in the grain after they have apparently been smothered. The loss was covered by insurance.

It is announced and notices of dismissal have been filed in the superior court of this county. The suits grew out of a statement made by Nichol in a speech made by Garrard at a council meeting to the effect that: "The city has $37,000 in the harbor fund, and if John Nichol would put up the $25,000 he could have the city of the city would have enough money to have the work proceed." Garrard and the publishing company have published statements to the effect that if such a statement was made, it was during the heat of argument and that the councilman did not then, for does now, mean to question the integrity or honesty of Nichol.

Young Women Perform Daring Water Feats With Men Critics Looking On

BERKELEY, June 12.—Thrilling rescues performed for exhibition purposes showed the life-saving skill of University of California co-eds yesterday afternoon at a water sports carnival held in the women's swimming pool as a feature of the inter-session on the campus.

For probably the first time in the history of the university more men were allowed within the sacred precincts of the outdoor pool. To the male of the species the co-eds showed their ability to be real heroines in time of need, an audience of several hundred men and women applauding the work of the women as they plunged into the water to rescue "drowning" college sisters. Mrs. Lyba Sheffield Mackey, famous as a swimmer, directed a score or more co-eds in the water sports program, showing the ability of the college girl to protect herself in the water after but brief instruction. An exhibition of the various strokes used was given by Miss Nita Sheffield, who shares swimming honors with her sister and who made her farewell appearance about the bay yesterday before leaving for Columbia where she will have charge of summer work in swimming this year.

Appearing in the exhibition were the following co-eds: Misses Ellen Boyesen, Eleanor Burt, Lucille Kip, Mary Miliken, Jane Spring, Florence Stiller, Elizabeth Woodworth, Marian Anderson, Marie Hale, Mary Hodgkinson, Violet Leora, Phyllis Martin, Miriam Sizer, Mabel Trindade, Grace Bliss, Florence Cox, Eberard Hunt, Celia Pierson, Emily Wardman, Nancy Berry, Welcom Berry, Mrs. Bruce, Mary Hagensen, Elsie Sommer, N. ## THIEVES BLOW AUTO FIRM'S SAFE AND GET ONLY $40

Ten men late last night or early this morning gained entrance to the E. L. Peacock Auto Company, 1048 Broadway, blew open the safe and forced open the cash drawer and desks. They only obtained about $40 for their trouble.

The chief element of the robbery concerned in the case is the manner in which they obtained entrance to the building as all of the doors and windows were locked this morning and there was no evidence of any lock having been forced. A door leading into the stock room, however, had been forced but for what purpose was not clear unless they stole some tools or auto accessories. The damage to the office is estimated at $1000.

The safe was completely destroyed and the office was wrecked. Desks and drawers were "blown" open and searched and papers were scattered on the floor this morning in wild confusion.

Police investigation of the robbery this morning disclosed the fact that several people had heard a muffled roar and felt a shock at about 1 o'clock this morning.

Employees of the company at once notified E. L. Peacock, who in turn notified the police, who in turn notified the police.

Inspector Tom Woods was at once dispatched to the scene. He found no finger prints on the safe and office furniture. Gloves had to be used to prevent leaving any possible clue.

Inspector Richard McSweeney and Paul E. Brown were later sent to the scene and they made a complete investigation of the daring robbery.

According to the police, the job is the worst of the recent crack-down and there is no probability of several other safe robberies that have occurred within the last few weeks. In no recent safe cracking operation have the "yegs" used the "saw" to crack open the safe.

J. C. Nagel, manager, stated the parties who blew the safe apparently were ill informed on the customs of the firm, as large sums of money are never kept in the office.

SIXTY OAKLAND HIGH BOYS GOING TO ARMY CAMP

Sixty members of the reserve of the Technical High School of the Technical High School and Oakland high schools will leave here on June 14 for a six weeks course in military training at Camp Kearney, California. About 2000 boys from states west of the Rocky mountains are to attend this camp and will receive intensive training in them for commissions in time of war.

All of their expenses are to be paid by the government, under whose direction the camp is held. Capt. W. J. McLaughlin, in charge of the camp work in Oakland, will accompany the boys to the camp.

From the Technical high school from the Fremont high and eight from the Oakland high.

Inspector Richard McSweeney and Paul E. Brown were later sent to the scene and they made a complete investigation of the daring robbery.

According to the police, the job is the worst of the recent crack-down and there is no probability of several other safe robberies that have occurred within the last few weeks. In no recent safe cracking operation have the "yegs" used the "saw" to crack open the safe.

J. C. Nagel, manager, stated the parties who blew the safe apparently were ill informed on the customs of the firm, as large sums of money are never kept in the office.

Inspector Tom Woods was at once dispatched to the scene. He found no finger prints on the safe and office furniture. Gloves had to be used to prevent leaving any possible clue.

Inspector Richard McSweeney and Paul E. Brown were later sent to the scene and they made a complete investigation of the daring robbery.

Troubles in Piedmont Home Attributed to Wine Cellar

MRS. FLORENCE SHARON BROWN, Piedmont society leader, who yesterday was awarded $600 separate maintenance from Herbert Hamilton Brown, clubman and wealthy San Francisco insurance broker on charges of intemperance and cruelty.

Mrs. H. H. Brown, Society Matron, Granted $600 Per Month Temporary Alimony Pending Trial

Six hundred dollars a month temporary alimony was granted by Superior Judge E. J. Brown to Mrs. Florence Sharon Brown, Eastbay society leader, against Herbert Hamilton Brown, wealthy San Francisco insurance man, yesterday, when Mrs. Brown testified that her husband inured by drunken orgies in their home and with neglect and indifference.

That her husband's mockery of her, his ridicule of her war efforts, his criticism of herself and alleged cruelty to her children all originated in the wine cellar of their home at 225 Mountain avenue, Piedmont, was Mrs. Brown's testimony in her suit asking for $500 alimony and a share in the community property.

Judge Brown also issued an order instructing H. H. Brown to vacate the family home on Mountain avenue by June 25 and turn the same over to his wife.

Charges that she gave a big, costly party at the home to her friends, were denied by Mrs. Brown, who said she never gave a party of any kind at any time at the home.

During Brown's periods of intemperance, she alleges, he neglected her and the children.

When she was sick at Fidelity hospital, he refused to call on her, and when she was in the hospital, he refused to visit her.

The couple were married in Piedmont in June, 1907, and separated March 21, 1920.

Mrs. H. H. Brown yesterday was denied alimony of $200 a month from her husband, A. P. Hanson, who she says operated a race track gambling hotel at 220 Ninth street, Oakland, by Superior Judge T. W. Harris, when Hanson showed that in their month and one day of married life he had given his wife $1000 cash, an automobile and diamond rings.

Mrs. Hanson testified that her husband operates a gambling house on Eighth street now, and that he is worth $50,000. Hanson denies this and says his property does not exceed $5000.

The wife declares that Hanson has neglected her and the children, and that he has been drinking and gambling.

C. OF C. PLANS MUCH FUN AT ITS CONVENTION

Eight slush funds—eight luscious hoodie corruption sacks—have been uncovered already as a prelude to the great Republican-Democratic convention to be held by the Oakland Chamber of Commerce Monday noon.

The discovery was made by the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, which has disappeared.

A committee has been appointed by President Walter D. Cole to investigate the investigation committee.

These are the latest developments from convention headquarters at the Chamber of Commerce, now in an uproar. Other developments are:

Chief of Police Lynch has ordered a platoon of police to guard the doors of the convention and to keep order.

A company of soldiers with fixed bayonets and trench helmets will guard the entrances and be prepared to participate in the convention in case of trouble.

Chief Lynch and officers of the National Guard have willingly cooperated with the Oakland Chamber of Commerce to make the mock convention a success and insure that this, the greatest burlesque convention ever held in America, will be 100 per cent efficient and a great advertisement for Oakland.

"I'll keep that convention from disturbing the peace if it takes my whole force," says Lynch. "I am pledged to maintaining law and order."

The whereabouts of the various slush funds is unknown, but various detectives are being appointed to keep track of them. Another committee is being appointed to suppress Judge Jesse J. Dunn. Dunn is known as a warm personal friend of Senator Owen of Oklahoma and it is feared he may endeavor to say a few serious words about Owen at the convention. As this is against all the rules of the convention a special committee will watch Dunn.

It has been reported that he will be thrown out of the convention," says Dunn. "We'll see about that. I'm going to bring my whole gang."

Chief Lynch may donate two riot squads if necessary.

The Chamber of Commerce has been besieged by requests for seats at the convention and it is believed that the T. and D. theater could be filled twice over. One member has already started preliminary campaigning by remarks in favor of the league, but as he has confused the Coast League with the League of Nations his speech will be suppressed.

The keynote speech, it is alleged, will be made by a citizen who is working day and night, with the aid of several bottles of old stuff, to prepare a convincing prohibition speech.

Several other prominent names mentioned as a possible candidate announces he will appear at the convention and bring Mandel Goldwater his bodyguard.

The Democrats are starting a movement to sit by themselves, but this will be broken up, as it is feared they might swamp the convention and get something out of it. It is asserted that three-quarters of the membership will unite to suppress the Democrats.

Fumors of the formation of a third or fourth or fifth party are spreading about town. Members of the Chamber of Commerce are becoming more enthusiastic every day and special committees are working to seat the delegates according to state delegations. Banners and badges will be flaunted all over the hall. More than 2500 badges are being made for the "delegates."

Toronto Minister To Tell of Passion Play

At the First Methodist Episcopal church, Alameda, the Passion Play at Oberammergau will be considered by Dr. Wilkinson of Toronto, Canada, tomorrow night. The sermon-lecture will be illustrated by 75 hand painted slides from official negatives, taken at full dress rehearsals (no camera is permitted when the "sacrament," as the pious peasants call the play, is staged.) Dr. Wilkinson witnessed the Passion Play in 1900 and 1910. It was omitted during the war for the first time in 300 years and will probably never again be celebrated in its native setting.

University High Girls Hold Campus Exhibit

A folk dancing program, a baseball game, exhibitions in home economics and drawing were given by the girl students in the University high school yesterday on the school grounds, under the direction of Miss Louise Patterson and Miss Marion Avery. Sophomores won the baseball game from the seniors with a score of 7-3. Recipes for sandwich fillings were distributed as souvenirs. The young women appeared in the following period costume dances: L'Espresso, Don Juan minuet; French dolls; Black Nag and Shepherd's Key. The Boys Glee club contributed selections.

TRANSPORTATION AND SCHOOLS

Havenscourt has both transportation and schools—two vital considerations to homeseekers. In Havenscourt the owners have just started a series of to sell as low as $4950 with a small first payment and the balance less than rent.

The Lockwood school is just across East Fourteenth street from Havenscourt and the Frick school is opposite on the Foothill Boulevard. Mills College, the only women's college on the Pacific coast, is a 5-minute ride from the property. The Fremont high school is a short walk.

Ample and fast transportation to the business center of Oakland is furnished by both the Southern Pacific electric trains and the direct street car service on East Fourteenth street. The Southern Pacific local service connects with the San Francisco ferries at the Oakland mole.

The home-building program of Havenscourt is of the greatest interest to everyone wishing to own a moderately-priced, artistic home, centrally located in a fine, fully-improved residence district and having every possible modern convenience.

Visit Havenscourt Sunday. During the week write, telephone or call for full information.

No Respect For Schools

Children of today are fast losing their respect for the schools and their teachers.

There is but one reason for this—THE PITIFULLY POOR PAY GIVEN TO THE TEACHERS.

Boys and girls cannot respect the things they hold cheap. And today the professional services of able, highly-trained men and women teachers in the Oakland school department are the cheapest commodities in the labor market.

Recently a youngster of seventeen quit high school to go into the shipyards. When his teachers questioned the wisdom of his move he answered, "I don't have to have an education. I'll get more at the yards than you do and I'm only half as old. You don't have to know arithmetic or English or anything else to bolt up rivets."

This attitude of "what's-the-use-of-knowing-things" is becoming more widespread every day with the boys and girls of the country. And it is a dangerous attitude, one where children look down on the schools and the teachers and school environment. It bespeaks ill for the future standards of our city.

The schools are the mainstay of our whole social structure, of our best national, state and city ideals. When they are degraded our whole structure of ideals is lowered.

Because they are so poorly paid for their work the teachers are leaving the profession and those who might train for it are preparing for other work.

Soon, unless the parents take immediate and drastic action, their children may have good cause to despise their teachers. For the time is almost at hand when men and women of high educational qualifications will not go on as teachers.

And the children who attend school will pay in inferior schooling and improper school-association for the false economy of parents who failed to insist that teachers be given "a professional wage for professional services."

Write to the City Council today. Tell the Councilmen that you are against any economy that will lower the Oakland school standard.
